

Administrative Memo

Date: January 25, 2011
To: District Superintendents, High School Administrators and High School Counselors
From: Sharon Hoge, Assistant Commissioner
Subject: CCR-11-002 – College Prep Certificates

With the new high school graduation requirements now in effect, the Department is no longer producing College Prep Certificates for dissemination. The new graduation requirements now closely reflect the credit standards that had been required for the certificate and it is the expectation that all students will be college and career ready.

Districts may continue to offer such recognitions locally using the standards for the certificate as outlined in the high school graduation handbook.
