

Calling All K-12 Students: Speak Up to the New President!
Special Mini-Speak Up Survey open through Inauguration Day, January 20th, 2009

What is the one thing you would do to improve schools to ensure that all students receive the education and skills they need to be successful in life?"

Dear Educator:

You have the opportunity to help your students participate in our democracy by sharing their ideas for improving our schools with President Elect-Obama and the new Congress.

It's quick and easy through the online, mini Speak Up survey available at <http://www.netdayspeakup.org/inauguration08/>. This special survey, which is part of Project Tomorrow's larger Speak Up project, will be open until January 20th, 2009.

Results will be shared with the new Administration during a Congressional Briefing on March 24, 2009 in Washington, DC. This is a great opportunity for you to have a real voice in the new policies that will be debated in Washington, DC over the next few months!

To learn more about Project Tomorrow, the organization that facilitates the Speak Up survey, visit www.tomorrow.org Since 2003, over 1.5 million students, educators and parents have shared their ideas through Speak Up, to learn more visit <http://www.tomorrow.org/speakup/>
